Summer Reading 2017 - Build a Better World

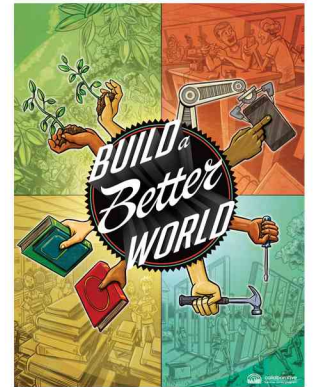

Kids Summer Library Club

Come and join the fun as we explore all things in building and architecture this summer. The Clyde Public Library will present "Build a Better World" for our summer library program. We will be doing engineering experiments, art projects, group challenges, and more. Participants can register any day after Memorial Day, starting May 30, 2017. Weekly programs are free and will feature performers, crafts, and building challenges. Please register for weekly programs by telephone at 419.547.7174 or register in person at the Circulation Desk in the lobby. Summer library performers are: Jeff Nicholas - Cartoonist, Barney Balloon Creations, Magic Nate, Chris Wood - Storm Spotter, Gordon Russ - Magician, Exotic Zoo Animals, Whiz Bang Science Show with Dr. Dave Lohnes, Lindsay Bonilla - Storyteller, Imagination Station - Extreme Science Demonstration.

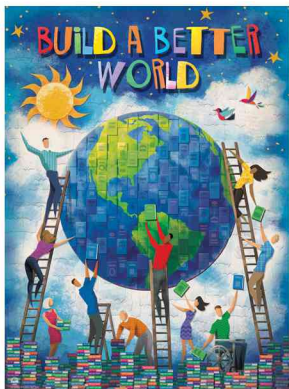

Teen Summer Reading

Teen Summer Reading program is approaching fast! We have a summer full of programs including playing Dungeons and Dragons, watching bad movies, and a brand new book club. Our weekly Thursday program, SPLAT, also continues throughout the summer, as well as Anime Club on the first Friday of every month. Participants this year will fill out a goal worksheet with what they want to accomplish this summer. Teens will work on their positive, achievable goals throughout the summer. Achieving their summer goal is a ticket to the after-hours event, Glow Crazy, July 28! Teens also can earn raffle slips by attending programs all summer, completing steps for their summer goal, or for every book read to enter to win one of the prize packs. For more information, please contact Rachel Henck at 419.547.7174.

Adult Summer Reading

This summer Clyde Public Library wants to help you "Build a Better World" with fun and informative programs and cool prizes. Adult Summer Reading runs from Monday, June 5 through Saturday, August 5. We'll kick off Summer Reading with a Blood Drive on Tuesday, June 13 and celebrate the end of Summer Reading with a Volunteer Fair on Tuesday, August 8. You can learn about fire safety, the basics of yoga, or be introduced to visual literacy. There will be prize "bundles" you can try to win by attending programs and/or checking out materials. Winners will be chosen at the end of Summer Reading. Register for Adult Summer Reading and receive a small gift! (while supplies last) Please join us this summer to build a better you, a better library, a better community, and a better world!

Hidden Gems: Young Adult Graphic Novels

Democracy: Stories from the Long Road to Freedom by Condoleezza Rice

"Condoleezza Rice serves as an able and insightful guide in this journey through democracy across the globe. Her knowledge and clear-eyed assessment of the challenges facing this system of government make this book an important contribution to a pressing debate on democracy today."— Kofi Annan, former secretary-general of the United Nations

"Weaving effortlessly between academic analysis and personal experiences—from Professor Rice to Secretary of State Rice and back again—Condi draws upon a series of case studies to offer a fresh perspective to how democracies emerge, how they sometimes endure but sometimes collapse, and especially why patience is required from us in observing and participating in the democracy-building process. A fantastic read!"— Professor Michael McFaul, director, Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies, Stanford University

"Working daily alongside Condi at the White House and State Department, I witnessed firsthand her foundational belief in the power of human freedom and the crucial need for democratic institutions to protect it. This book, full of fascinating anecdotes and insights, is a sweeping view of the global struggle for democracy and a must-read for all who care about the future peace of the world and its people."— Karen Hughes, former under secretary of state for public diplomacy and public affairs

"George W. Bush's secretary of state returns to her academic roots with this accessibly written study of that imperfect but ideal form of government. The United States is strongly and customarily identified as the democratic power par excellence. However, urges Rice, now a professor in the business school at Stanford University, democracy is not an exclusively American province, nor is there compelling reason to believe that other nations cannot enjoy the freedoms it affords. [...] Some readers may not be convinced, but this book deserves a broad audience, especially in our current political climate." — Kirkus Reviews, starred review

Zodiac Starforce: By the Power of Astra by Kevin Panetta

From Amazon: They're an elite group of teenage girls with magical powers who have sworn to protect our planet against dark creatures . . . as long as they can get out of class! Known as the Zodiac Starforce, these high-school girls aren't just combating math tests. They're also battling monsters—not your typical afterschool activity! But when an evil force from another dimension infects team leader Emma, she must work with her team of magically powered friends to save herself—and the world—from the evil Diana and her mean-girl minions!

From Kevin Panetta (Bravest Warriors) and Paulina Ganucheau (TMNT: New Animated Adventures, Bravest Warriors), this super-fun and heartfelt story of growing up and friendship—with plenty of magical-girl fighting action—delivers the most exciting new ensemble cast in comics!

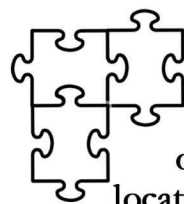

Delilah Dirk and the Turkish Lieutenant by Tony Cliff

From Goodreads: Lovable ne'er-do-well Delilah Dirk has travelled to Japan, Indonesia, France, and even the New World. Using the skills she's picked up on the way, Delilah's adventures continue as she plots to rob a rich and corrupt Sultan in Constantinople. With the aid of her flying boat and her newfound friend, Selim, she evades the Sultan's guards, leaves angry pirates in the dust, and fights her way through the countryside. For Delilah, one adventure leads to the next in this thrilling and funny installment in her exciting life.

A little bit Tintin, a little bit Indiana Jones, Delilah Dirk is a great pick for any reader looking for a smart and foolhardy heroine...and globetrotting adventures.

Giant Days Vol. 1 by John Allison & Whitney Cogar

From Goodreads: Susan, Esther, and Daisy started at university three weeks ago and became fast friends. Now, away from home for the first time, all three want to reinvent themselves. But in the face of handwringing boys, "personal experimentation," influenza, mystery-mold, nu-chauvinism, and the willful, unwanted intrusion of "academia," they may be lucky just to make it to spring alive. Going off to university is always a time of change and growth, but for Esther, Susan, and Daisy, things are about to get a little weird.
