Studies claim development of better writing skills is one of the benefits of reading. ... exposure to published, well-written work has a noted effect on one's own writing, as observing the cadence, fluidity, and writing styles of other authors will invariably influence your own work. In the same way that musicians influence one another, and painters use techniques established by previous masters, so do writers learn how to craft prose by reading the works of others.

Directors' Pick
Circling the Sun
by Paula McLain

Paula McLain, author of the phenomenal bestseller The Paris Wife, now returns with her keenly anticipated new novel, transporting readers to colonial Kenya in the 1920s. Circling the Sun brings to life a fearless and captivating woman—Beryl Markham, a record-setting aviator caught up in a passionate love triangle with safari hunter Denys Finch Hatton and Karen Blixen, who as Isak Dinesen wrote the classic memoir Out of Africa.

Brought to Kenya from England as a child and then abandoned by her mother, Beryl is raised by both her father and the native Kipsigis tribe who share his estate. Her unconventional upbringing transforms Beryl into a bold young woman with a fierce love of all things wild and an inherent understanding of nature's delicate balance. But even the wild child must grow up, and when everything Beryl knows and trusts dissolves, she is catapulted into a string of disastrous relationships.

Beryl forges her own path as a horse trainer, and her uncommon style attracts the eye of the Happy Valley set, a decadent, bohemian community of European expats who also live and love by their own set of rules. But it's the ruggedly charismatic Denys Finch Hatton who ultimately helps Beryl navigate the uncharted territory of her own heart. The intensity of their love reveals Beryl's truest self and her fate: to fly.

Set against the majestic landscape of early-twentieth-century Africa, McLain's powerful tale reveals the extraordinary adventures of a woman before her time, the exhilaration of freedom and its cost, and the tenacity of the human spirit.

YouTube
from Christie Armstrong

YouTube is a great resource for just about everything. You can watch to learn, discover or just be entertained.

I have watched videos to learn how to: do digital scrapbooking and edit photos using Adobe Photoshop Elements; operate my Sony DSLR camera; use Microsoft Excel, OneNote, Word, etc.; manipulate iOS 8 and my iPhone 4S; replace the broken back on my iPhone 4S; debloat software on a new laptop after purchase; apply makeup and nail art; knit; dremel my dog's nails. Also, for utilizing cleaning and organizing techniques and listening to book reviews ... and more!

Since I'm not able to watch Jimmy Fallon, Ellen or the new Lip Sync Battle on Spike during their scheduled times, I can watch them on YouTube. It's also a great place to discover new musical talent.

Some of my favorite YouTube channels: Clean My Space, Home Organizing by Alejandra.TV, Do It On a Dime! (organization, frugal living, DIY) and The CrunchyHousewife (home/personal care DIY). Fleur DeForce and Essie Button - Beauty Blogs (I'm finding I enjoy their vlogs: FleurDeVlog and essiebuttonvlogs more), booksandquills, justkissmyfrog - book reviews; Digital Scrapper, Photoshop Elements, HGTV Handmade (crafts), Zak George's Dog Training rEvolution, physical therapy video, The Worktop and Sainsbury's Food - cooking, Kirsten Dirksen [Videos about simple living, self-sufficiency, small (and tiny) homes, backyard gardens (and livestock), alternative transport, DIY, craftsmanship and philosophies of life].

Next time you need to learn something, see a review on a product, or kill some time, try YouTube!
